All the rain is causing a concern besides flooding. Experts are worried about a disease called West Nile Virus since county officials, for the second time this year, have found birds that were infected with virus. West Nile Virus is a disease that is carried by mosquitoes. Birds eat the mosquitoes and get sick, and people can get the disease if they are bitten by an infected insect. Mosquitoes lay their eggs in standing water where the rain has left a lot of water in ponds, old tires and trees. These locations are excellent breeding grounds for the insects. Therefore, the county has sent workers out and inspected many local areas for potential mosquito breeding grounds. If they find mosquitoes, they will spray poison on them. Mr. Chan, who works for Mosquito Control District, says it is critical for people to drain standing water from their yards. Officials also urge residents to dress in long sleeves and pants and take precaution. They suggest using an insect repellent and making sure door and window screens are intact to keep mosquitoes outside.

The first English attempts to colonize North America were controlled by individuals rather than companies. Sir Humphrey Gilbert was the first Englishman to send colonists to the New World. His initial expedition, which sailed in 1578 with a patent granted by Queen Elizabeth was defeated by the Spanish. A second attempt ended in disaster in 1583, when Gilbert and his ship were lost in a storm. In the following year, Gilbert's half brother, Sir Walter Raleigh, having obtained a renewal of the patent, sponsored an expedition that explored the coast of the region that he named "Virginia." Under Raleigh's direction efforts were then made to establish a colony on Roanoke Island in 1585 and 1587. The survivors of the first settlement on Roanoke returned to England in 1586, but the second group of colonists disappeared without leaving a trace. The failure of the Gilbert and Raleigh ventures made it clear that the tasks they had undertaken were too big for any one colonizer. Within a short time the trading company had supplanted the individual promoter of colonization.
